

Mount Pleasant Village Welcomes Website Manager Claire Thompson

The Village is delighted to welcome Claire Thompson as the new manager of our website.

Since taking on her new duties at the beginning of March, Claire has been busy meeting Board and Committee members, assessing the website, cleaning up outdated materials, and thinking about redesign to make the site more user friendly. She is the Village's first paid employee, devoting six hours per week to nurturing our website and distributing program announcements.

Born and raised in Falls Church, Virginia, Claire attended Woodson High School. She graduated from the University of Mary Washington with a degree in English. Post-graduation, Claire developed new marketing strategies for jazz music productions in D.C. and was an intern with the ONE Campaign on Capitol Hill. She is currently the Office Manager of Cleveland & Woodley Park Village, but fortunately has time to devote her knowledge and skills to helping our Village. When not working, Claire enjoys reading, writing, playing the guitar, viewing art exhibits, and hiking.

Villagers Meet A Date for Mad Mary Film Editor at the Capitol Irish Film Festival

A group of Villagers came together to see the popular Irish romantic comedy, A Date for Mad Mary, at the Capital Irish Film Festival in Silver Spring March 4.

Paddy Meskell, chair of the Irish arts organization, Solas Nua, which produced the film festival, and a Villager, introduced the group to the film's editor Tony Cranstoun, who came from Ireland for a Q&A session with the audience. Cranstoun and Meskell (2nd and 3rd from the left) are here with Villagers Mary Rojas, Sharon and Tom Conway, Cecile Srodes, Bonnie Cain and Darlene Meskell.

Villagers Visit Women House Exhibit at the Women's Museum

A group of 10 Villagers enjoyed a docent-led tour of the new Women House Exhibit at the National Museum of Women in the Arts on March 14. Exhibits included work by 36 women artists, and was inspired by the landmark 1972 show Womanhouse, created by Judy Chicago and Miriam Schapiro. Like its predecessor, the NMWA show challenges conventional ideas about gender and the domestic space in multiple artistic media.

Meet-the-Street: La Clínica Del Pueblo Tour & Lunch at Dos Gringos

Thanks to the planning efforts of Bonnie Cain and Jan Fenty, Villagers had an opportunity to meet with La Clínica Del Pueblo staff and learn about their health and wellness programs that serve a primarily Latino population in the District and Maryland. From Senior Director of Health Equity and Community Action Suyanna Barker and Health Promotion Manager Rodrigo Stein, the group learned about the beginnings of La Clínica in 1983, serving primarily refugees fleeing the violence in El Salvador, to their becoming a Federally Qualified Healthcare Center in 2007. They currently have five sites in the DC area: The Mount Pleasant site is slated to become their reception and health promotion center; clinic services are provided at their 15th Street and Hyattsville locations; and there are sites addressing women's health and safety issues and the needs of the LGBTQ community. La Clínica also addresses behavioral health issues for persons with mental and substance use disorders, as well as serving the needs of unaccompanied minors who have immigrated to the U.S. The health promotion program, operating in Mount Pleasant, has the goals of increasing health literacy and self-advocacy, increasing client ability to navigate the health care system, health education, and helping clients take charge of their health. They have the ability to provide interpreter services in 62 languages.

Following the La Clínica tour, several Villagers join owner Alex Kramer for lunch at Dos Gringos. As with prior Meet-the-Street events, this was an opportunity to learn about the origins of the café and Alex's pathway to becoming the hands-on owner. Although Alex had prior experiences in restaurants, waiting tables and bartending, her intended career was to be a private investigator, focusing primarily on insurance claims, which she pursued for several years. She expected to be the silent partner in Dos Gringos, but when the managing partner moved out of the area, Alex eventually became the sole owner-manager, and has focused on the restaurant since. Now, she wouldn't have it any other way.

Sights & Sounds of Ireland Today Art Exhibit

Village partner Solas Nua, in collaboration with Dupont Underground, presented "Sights and Sounds of Ireland Today." The exhibition explored the field of contemporary video art production in Ireland, projecting the work of 21 artists on the walls of the former trolley tunnel under Dupont Circle. This was the first significant survey of Irish visual art to be presented in the Washington DC area.

Diners will also be entertained by Rock Creek Jazz, from 7:00 to 10:00 pm. Wonderful food and great music.
